Tickets: Because we are still managing the constraints of the pandemic, in-person attendance is limited so we are prioritizing seating for seniors and their families. All Northwest School faculty other than those participating in the ceremony will be invited to watch online. We are hopeful that the museum will adjust attendance limits to allow for more seating on the main floor. They are waiting for the most updated guidance from the state. At the museum, there will be floor seating, and there is auxiliary seating in the wings that will allow those in attendance to watch a live stream and be able to hoot and holler. At this time, we are limiting floor seating to immediate parents and guardians. We also need an accurate count of who will be attending in person, who will be online, and how many tickets families are hoping for. Please fill out this survey.

We ask for your patience and understanding as we navigate the ever-changing guidelines.

Post Ceremony: State graduation guidelines do not allow for a reception following the ceremony. We are not doing a "Grad Night" celebration with the seniors this year. We are thrilled we can do an in-person gathering for folks who feel comfortable with it. We encourage you to make your own plans to celebrate safely after the ceremony ends.

Caps/Gowns/Invitations
Invitations, caps, and gowns are available in the Bio Lab for Seattle-based students. Packages have been sent to students abroad.
